What you can expect

• Globalization and increasing international teamwork show the importance of knowledge in transborder activities in construction.

• On the basis of selected examples of current and past international foreign projects, the differences and the special features concerning construction, contracts and the (construction) culture of various countries will be discussed, in comparison to Germany.

• The lecture will be given by Dipl.-Ing. Steven Wilbrenninck MBA, a recognized expert in international projects, such as the construction of large sports facilities.

• The lecture is addressed to the students of IUL Master-classes, yet civil engineering and bachelor students are also welcome.

• The lectures are held in two blocks, each on two consecutive days – participation is compulsory:

  Block 1 & 2: to be announced    Venue: Institute of Construction Management

• Performance will be evaluated by a group presentation and an exam (50/50 %).

Enrollment

• Personal enrollment with Mr. Sebastin Scharpf (on Mondays or Thursdays, 1:30 – 3:30 pm, room 1.135 at the Institute) and the deposit of a security in the amount of 50 € is obligatory. You will get refunded after the course. In case of no show you will not be refunded.

• Registration period: 20 March to 13 April 2020

• The number of participants is min. 20 to max. 32 students.
